

FLYING THE FLAG FOR DEVON

Three North Devon painters, who gain inspiration and subject matter from our beautiful landscape, have taken the very unusual step of banding together to stage a series of collaborative National exhibitions. Despite having been together for just six months Keiron Leach, Creydi Nevill and Ed Crumpton have already: shown at Chichester in West Sussex; represented ArtTrek at the North Devon Festival opening, and have a London exhibition in August. Their calendar is rapidly filling with yet another London venue booked for next year, and they even have some International possibilities. Each member has a distinct style which they say makes for a rounded and interesting show. You can watch their progress and actually see their exhibitions through video clips on their website www.onshow.org.uk , where there is also a virtual gallery to be enjoyed from the comfort of your own home office swivel chair!
